Great Whig demonstration for Clay and Fillmore!

Two Meetings at Vauxhall-10,000 Assembled. Henry Clay is again in the field for the Presidency The Clay men of New York, with the New York Tribune, the ablest whig paper in the country by all odds, at their head, are moving with a mighty effort to preserve the whig party from destruction by wresting it from Taylor and placing Clay again at its head! The Tribune in introducing the proceedings of the meeting, remarks:

"The great Clay rally, a call for which was published in The Tribune of yesterday, came off last night (Sept. 7) at Vauxball. It was one of the largest, and by all odds, the most enthusiastic political gathering which has been held in our city this year, equaling even that of last February at Cistle Garden. overpowering feeling which was manifested on this occasion. It showed at least, that however the majority of the Whig party may have chosen to act, there are thousands of Whig hearts still true to the old banner and the old leader. The enthusiam of the audience was unmistakeably genuine, and rose at times to a pitch that seemed almost frantic. Nothing but the most ardent attachment to Whig principles, as embodied in the person of HENRY CLAY, could have given rise to such a thrilling expression of feeling. The number of persons in attendance could not have been less than 10,000. The audience began to assemble at an early hour, and by the time of commencing the Saloon was crowded to excess. In half an hour afterward the number became so great that a second meeting was organized in the Garden, in be allied to personal, party or national dishonor. which an equal number participated. A large transparency bearing the name of Henry Clay, was suspended over the entrance, and several of the campaign banners of 1844 were planted on the speakers' stand."

At 74 o'clock the meeting was organized by the appointment of Willis Hall as president with 36 vice presidents and 18 secretaries.

We are compelled for want of room to omit the exciting speeches, songs, &c. After the president had spoken, the Tribune says: three thundering cheers were then given for Henry Clay, three for the speaker, and three more, while the fine band chimed in with "Here's to you, Harry Clay!" After some minutes, when the storm had somewhat subsided, EDWARD V. PRICE, Esq., came forward and read the following address and resolutions:

ADDRESS

Of the Democratic Whigs of New York to the Democratic Whigs of the United States.

Impelled by every consideration of duty, principle and right, we come before you, fellow citizens painfully impressed with the necessity which compels our dissent from the Philadelphia nomination. Upon the civil policy and conduct of our National Government. sole ground of "availability," the great and solid ty merely, a person was selected, whose only claims were his military achievements. Urging "availibility," our own beloved CLAY, and all those great leaders who, by their civil services, have made the Whig party illustrious "for all time," were overslaughed, and a mere soldier substituted. Unfolding a banner inscribed with that potential word "availability," 171 members of that Convention, including the four unauthorized votes of Texas, and the three votes of Arkansas, cast by one individual, were obtained for ZACHARY TAYLOR, and, without another word-declaring no principles-issuing no addressmaking no platform-passing no resolutions-without compass, or guide, or landmark-they launched this "available" nomination, and adjourned. We rejoice to say, there is no parallel to this slaughtering course in the history of this or any other country. Since that nomination, the whole course of events have been to alienate and noteo conciliate the Whigs. The popular voice of the country had proclaimed itself in advance for the only truly "available" candidate, whose eminent and pre-eminent abilities, services and virtues, his consistant, frank, honorable and straightforward course, proving that he would " rather be right than be President," had rendered any advoency of his claims a work of supererogation. Old fees vied with old friends in harmonizing and uniting all the elements in his favor-the adopted citizens, with his characteristic generosity, hailed the advent which promised, in his elevation, equal privilege to all-the friends of Human Freedom were his friendsthe masses, the workshop, the counting-room, and the field, were full of those who loved him who had always loved them, and their country and its interests, better than he loved himself. Christian Hero as he was-he joined to it the Patriot, the Sage, and the Statesman: his election was sure to follow his nomination. This boundless enthusiasm was checked by the Convention at Philadelphia. We had been content-if forced to forego our own chosen chief-with the leadership of any of the great champions of the Whig party; but our destinies were committed to one, who had himself most emphatically pronounced his own unfitness for the station.

Grieved as the Whigs were, at the selection of one who had deliberately refused to be the exponent of their views, or the propounder of a faith which had been vindicated and firmly established by the very maladministration of the Government in being, they were not prepared for the declaration of Gen. TAYLOR that he" would have taken the nomination of the Baltimore Convention," ON ANY TERMS. Still less could they have supposed that he would have "gladly" accepted the fanatical, narrow and sectional nomination at Charleston, which allied him to Gen. BUTLER, and a platform upon which no part of the country could stand with safety to the whole. We must consider his course as in defiance of that generosity which trusted him at Philadelphia, and his support, if persevered in, must inevitably place the cherished measures and principles, with the settled policy of the Whig party, completely at his mercy.

If Gen. TAYLOR is an honest man-and we are not disposed to doubt that which we do not call in question -he has no claim upon the Whig party; upon its support or countenance. In the history of our country one man has ever been so placed as to be enabled to have his claims universally admitted. Gen. TAYLOR would question the motives or sincerity of those who would claim for him a position beside George WASHingros, who was selected at a time when the country had emerged from a state of revolution and commenced its national existence. And yet, to sustain his self-elected position, this comparison must hold good, or his pretension falls when this fails. We cannot recognize the acts of the Philadelphia Convention as regular, clearly proved as they have been to have been wrong in action - be their motives searched by their constituency, and their own conall must go to account for their earthly stewardship. Their nomination has fallen dead upon the country -without response; no effort can galvanize it into practical vitality. His defeat we consider, under the circumstances, a thousand times sure. We can conceive of no possible contingency that could after this "fixed fact." If we considered his nomination proper, and warranted by the facts as they existed at the time it was made, justified by principle and sustained by that immutable and unchanging "right," which overleaps all mere "availability" or "expediency," we would support it, regardless of defeat, through all changes or vicissitudes. Condemned by all these tests-and vet the more enforced by his own singular and vacillating course-setting at defiance the very men who 'stooped to conquer'-we are obliged to discard it, and to regard it now and hereafter as of no more avail, and of no more binding force to the Whig party, than if Gen. Cass had seen fit to take "the Philadelphia nomination," if tendered to him on any terms. The Whig party have no nominee in the field. At this juncture of affairs there can be but one course left to the men of principle in our own ranks, and well we know thousands of all parties, who cannot sympathize with any of the present candidates, would rush to our standard if we present them with that one peerless name, around which in this hour of despondency and gloom all patriotic hearts center. Fellow-citizens-Democratic Whigs of New-York, there is yet hope for the trusting; light is seen in the West; in this season of trouble we can perceive but one sure course, and that is to "Do right, and trust to Providence for the result."

Fully aware of the responsibility which attaches to us and to you, we declare our fixed and unalterable determination to vote for

PENRY CLAY of Kentucky. With the blessing of God we will adhere to this and abide by it—earnestly, zealously, and unitedly, and pledge ourselves, one and all, to use unceasingly all honorable means to insure success. With pride and pleasure we accord our voices for the Vice-Presidency to an honored soe of our own

MILLARD FILLMORE of New-York. Whigs of the United States, we have declared our choice-we have unfurled our banner, and attaching to these names the old Whig Platform of Principles, we have nailed them to the mast. Having arrived at this determination conscientiously, and resulved to | 1022 strike for that cause which can alone secure happiness, peace, and security to the country, we will, earnestly entreating your co-operation in behalf of the Great National Statesman, go forward in this fight, unsheathing the sword, and throwing the scabbard away until after November. It is our deliberate conviction that this irrepressible movement, on the part of the people, will be responded The most excited of the Irish meetings which have to and bring into line, beside our own Empire lately been held at the same place, did not exceed the State, those gallant States which proclaimed for the | 3428 right in 1840 and 1844.

The base may triumph, but we do not think they can. They will not, if those who love the Democratic Whig party for its past deeds in behalf of Human Liberty, Man's Rights, and the Universal cause of Freedom, will now manfully do battle with all the foes of principle and right. We call on our brethren everywhere to rally. We call on those of all parties who cannot support the "expediency" candidates now in the field, to unite with us, and victory is insured. Whether victory or defeat ensue, we are consoled even in disaster by the remembrance that in behalf of duty, honor, religion, virtue and the struggling masses, we fought this fight. A thousand things are, any one of them, of more value than 'success,' if success

Struck by domestic foes, victimized by demagogues and selfish politicians, the country has a right to claim the united action of her true sons, and to those we confidently appeal to join this army of deliverance.

Thousands hang upon your action. Your confirmation to-night of this movement will speed with electric annihilation of space to the anxious councils of those who meet throughout the length and breadth of our land to consider what course they too shall take. Your determination will be theirs. Each true man is now a host. Let each remember that his pen to-morrow should bear true tidings of this Revolution 30 his distant friends

God speed you, fellow-citizens, in the performance of this great and righteous duty. We commend to your care and keeping now the Whig cause and our candidates CLAY and FILLMORE.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved, That we return our thanks to Hon. DANIEL WEESTER for his recent Address to the Whigs of Marshfield and of the Union-he having in that able speech, demonstrated by unanswerable arguments, the impolicy of the late Philadelphia Nomination for the Presidency-the error of relying upon supposed availability as the principal ground of recommendation, and the importance to the Whig party of having and electing a candidate, thoroughly instructed in the Resolved. As well in compliance with this carefully conprinciples upon which are reared the structure of our judgment and wishes-we will select from the roll of Whig sidered opinion, as in conformity with our own deliberate Government, were there cast axide. For "availibili- statesmen one who has for nearly forty years performed a leading part in the councils of his country-one in whom the Whig Party has always had entire confidence-whom above all others, without invidiousness, we think best qualified to adjust and settle the great questions which now distract the American Union-to whom all hearts turn with instinctive regard, HENRY CLAY of Kentucky. We know how strong may be his disinctination to any step which, under any circumstances, may connect him or his name with the pending political struggle—yet neither he nor any other citizen has the right to withhold when the country requires his services in the office of President of the United States: we will endeavor to secure them, and if we shall fortunately succeed, we will have performed our duty-and will leave to him the performance of his.

Resolved, That in the present emergency in our political affairs, and the necessity for immediate and energetic action there is not time for form, or ceremony, or a studied adherence to ordinary usages: we, therefore, recommend the Whigs throughout the State, who concur in our views, to meet forthwith in each Congressional District and select a candidate to be voted for as an Elector.

Resolved, That a Committee of Nine be appointed by the President of this meeting, of which he shall be one, who shall be authorized to confer with our friends in other parts of the State, for the purposes of completing an entire Electoral Ticket. Said Committee are also authorized to make arrangements for the call of future meetings, and generally to act in all matters calculated to give force and efficiency to the objects and purposes of the meeting.

tolred, That between this and the day of Election there is sufficient fime, acting with energy and promptness, to organize the necessary movement throughout the country,the rapidity of the effort is calculated rather to secure than to prevent success-we enter upon it with a well grounded confidence that if successful we shall have rendered a lasting service to our country, that if we fail, we do not increase the evils which now threaten us.

Resolved, That in announcing our fixed and unalterable intention to adhere to this cause, as dictated by our sense of duty and of right, and believing that true Whig principles can alone secure to our country, to us, and to those who come after us, those privileges which alone elevate a republic-we have calinly and finally pledged ourselves to abide by this preference, through good and through evil reportplanting ourselves upon the old, true and reliable Whig Platform-declaring our unalterable belief in the policy and wisdom which commend our own Home Industry and Laborfor Harbor and Internal Improvements-for the Executive Administration conforming with the wishes of, and not dietating to the people-of retrenching the expenditures of Government-for peace-against territorial aggrandizement by conquest-for the speedy payment of the National Debt, for the contracting of which we are not responsible-for the Constitution, and against its violation in form or in factfor confining Congress to its legitimate and proper daties of legislating for the whole country, and not prostituting their brief authority by forcing upon the people Presidential caudidates, without reference to their fitness, qualifications, or acceptability to their constituency-and, lastly, for committing the Executive Government of this country to a civilian, and not to the hands of a military chi-ftain. Resolved, That we recommend to our fellow-citizens here, and throughout the country, the immediate organization of CLAY CLUBS, and such other sure means of organization as will give efficiency to their efforts in behalf of CLAY and

The reading of the resolutions was interrupted by loud cheering, and the motion for their adoption was carried with a burst of enthusiasm. The cheering again commenced; hats were waved and flung into the air, with an abandon of excitement which is not often witnessed. The Chairman stated that the Committee of Nine, referred to in one of the resolutions, would be given to The Tribune for publication.

It suits the purposes of the whigs to represent Gen. Cass as a very bloody minded man, bent on war and conquest, and under whose administration we shall be likely to have a very warlike time of it. The following is an extract from the writing of this great belligerent. It may have the effect to tranquilize the nerves of some of the peace party supporters of any military chieftain whom whig politicians seek to ride

"The time will come, and indeed is fast approaching, when the true duty of government will be better appreciated, and the claims of sovereigns to distinction will be estimated, not by the number of victories they may achieve, but by the progress and improvement of all the establishments and institutions which minister to the moral cultivation and to the physical comforts of society."

My physical paroxysms returned daily, and were very severe. My physical energies had been much impaired, by a previous attack of bitious fever. Having tried several favorite remedies without relief, a friend in whom I had confidence, recommended Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue. I procured a tottle, and followed the accompanying directions. The consequence was, that I had but one paroxylism after taking the first dose, and my general health was rapidly restored without using any other medicine. SPRINGFIELD, Kr., May 14, 1845. Messre. Sanford & Park: I take this opportunity of informing you of a most remarkable cure performed upon me by the use of Dr. Wistar' Balsam of Wild Cherry. In the vear 1840, I was taken with an inflammation of the bowels, which I labored under for 6 weeks, when I gradually recovered. In the fall of 1841, I was attacked with a severe cold, which scated itself upon my lungs, and for the space of three years I was confined to my bed. I tried nil kinds of medicines, and every variety of medical aid, without benefit; and thus I weared along until the winter of 1844, when I heard of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. My friends persuaded me to give it a trial, though I had given up all hopes of recovery, and had prepared myself for the change of another world. Through their solicitation, I was induced to make use of the Genuine Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry The effect was truly assonishing. After five years of affliction, pain, and solfeting addition to have truly assonishing. and suffering, and after having spent four or five buodred dollars to and suffering, and after having spent four or five headred dollars to no purpose, and the test and most ce-pectable physicians had proved unavailing, I was soon restored to entire health by the blessing of God and the use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. I am now enjoying good health, and such is my altered appearance, that I am no longer known when I meet my former acquaintances. I have gained rapidly in weight, and my first is firm and solid. I can now eat is much as any person, and my first series to rgree with me. I have eaten more during the last six months than I had enten in five years before. Considering my case almost a miracle I deem it necessary for the good of the afflicted, and a duty I owe to the proprietor

Yours respectfully, BEWARE or Counterparts -Those who counterfeit a good medicine for the purpose of adding a few dollars to their pockets are far wase than the manufacturers of spurious coin. For while the latter only rob us of our property, the former take property and health and life away. Dr. Wistar's Balsom of Wild Cherry is admitted by thousands of disinterested witnesses to have effected the most extraordinary cures in cases of pulmonary and asthmatic character, ever before recorded in the brestory of medicine. The young, the beautiful, the good all speak forth its praise. It is now the favorite medicine in the most intelligent families of our country. Such a high stand in public estimation has been achieved by its own merits alone. And so long as a december public are careful to get Wistar's Balsom of Wild. as a discerning publicare careful to get Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and refuse with scorn counterfeits, and every other article proffered to them as a substitute, so long will cures, positive cures, cheer the fire adie of many a despairing family. The true and genuine Wistar's liaisam of Wild Cherry is sold at established agencies in all parts of the United States. Sold in Cincinnati on the corner.

Fever appeared, they were less violent, and before she had finished the bottle she was entirely relieved, and she was much better than she had leen ! efore she took the Ague. A lady that had been very sick with the Chills and Fever, but had broke them with Quinine, and was left in a very wenk and distressing state, and troubled exceedingly with the Ague Cake, seeing the effect that it had on my wife, she sent and procured a few bottles, and it restored her in a few weeks to complete health. Your sarsuparilla is without doubt unequalled in diseases incident to the West, and if you think that this communication will be of use, you are at liberty to use it as you choose.

FEMALE MEDICINE. Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign and speedy cure for Incipient Consumption, Bartenness, Pro'pasus Uteri, or Polling of the Womb, Costiveness, Piles, Leucordon, or Whites, obstructed or Dr. Hart: It is with no small degree of satisfaction that I am enabled to announce to you the complete restoration to health of making the state of your Vegetable Extract. At the age of six years, therage at present is sixteen, she was first attacked with this dreadful malady called Epileptic Firs. And until she commenced taking the Extract, she suffered with attacks of firs almost incessantly, and so severely as to threaten to drive reason from its throne, and the sufficient Counterpart of the system—no mutter whether the result of inherent cause or causes produced by irregularity, illness or accident. Nothing be more surprising than its invigoration of the surface of the its influence. It immediately counteracts the nervousness of the female frame, which is the great cause of Barrenness. It will not be expected of us, in cases of so delicate a nature, to exhibit certificates of cures performed but we can assure the afflicted, that hundreds of cases have been reported to us. Thousands of cases where tamilies have been without children, after using a lew bottles of this invalu
